A Dance Workshop with Nicolas Cantillon - Compagnie 72/73

"A strange company, looking for the meaning of dance – dance which happens, which is invented as and when it takes place, which leaves marks in the sand."

This master class will start with a warm-up that will last an hour. It will be a general approach with exercises on the floor, etc. During the second part of the class, the dancers will do more complex exercises, possibly a variation, possibly a typical approach to Laurence's and Nicolas' dance (fluidity but also fragmentation of movements). The workshop will depend on the level of the participants and everyone is welcome!
