

Presents

Experiences and Challenges of English Language Teaching (ELT) in Non-Linguistic Universities of Kazakhstan

By

Feb. 14, 2011

12:00-1:30pm

GL 835

Modern Languages
11200 SW 8 ST, DM 499
Miami, FL 33199

Phone: (305) 348-2851
Fax: (305) 348-1085
E-mail: modlang@fiu.edu

Dr. Natalya Pak

Fullbright Scholar
Associate Professor

Dr. Natalya Pak is a Fulbright Visiting Scholar at Ball State University, Indiana, where she conducts research in second language acquisition. She is Associate Professor of English Linguistics at Kazakh-British Technical University, Republic of Kazakhstan. Her professional interests include English language teaching (ELT) development, methodology of ELT, team teaching and test writing. Her research interests comprise issues in comparative education, educational policy and reforms in Kazakhstan. She is the author of several methodological works and papers on language teaching issues. Dr. Pak is a member of The World Congress of Comparative Education Societies (WCCES), the European Association for International Education (EAIE), the National Association of Teachers of English of Kazakhstan (NATEK), Teachers of English of Almaty (TEA), and the Kazakhstan Association of Teachers of the Russian Language and Literature (KazPRYAL).

This event is free and open to FIU students and the community.