

FLORIDA INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY
Certificate of Portuguese as a Foreign Language

Celpe-Bras is the Brazilian Ministry of Education's official exam for Portuguese language proficiency. It is a requirement for admission of international students to Brazilian universities, and it is also accepted internationally as proof of Portuguese language competence. The exam consists of an intensive written part, including both oral and reading comprehension, and an oral part in which test-takers are interviewed individually by a Portuguese professor trained as a certified proficiency tester for the exam. The exam grants certificates for the following levels of proficiency: intermediate, superior intermediate, advanced, and superior advanced. Florida International University in Miami is one of the four Celpe-Bras testing locations in the United States.
